‘Experiential Learning: Unleashing the power of observation in Architecture and Design’ (Le Corbusier Series)

Date: 15th March, 2023

Time: 10:00 am to 1:00 pm

Platform: Da Vinci Auditorium, Delhi Technical Campus

Department of Architecture, Delhi Technical Campus organized a lecture on ‘Experiential Learning: Unleashing the power of observation in Architecture and Design’ under "Le Corbusier Series". The purpose of the lecture was to enlighten students about the importance of critical observation while travelling, in the architecture academics and profession. It is extremely important to have the right blend between theory of classroom & practical observation of the buildings.

The lecture was delivered by the architect and planner Ar. Sarika Agarwal who is a visionary who loves to lead from the front, and value skills and knowledge of the person, regards for all and have good communication skills to lead and manage a team. She was passionately involved at positions of Head in the various colleges administrating the staff and students, engaging in social responsibility works, taking the consultancy projects for the institutes and working on documentations and research oriented urban design and urban planning.

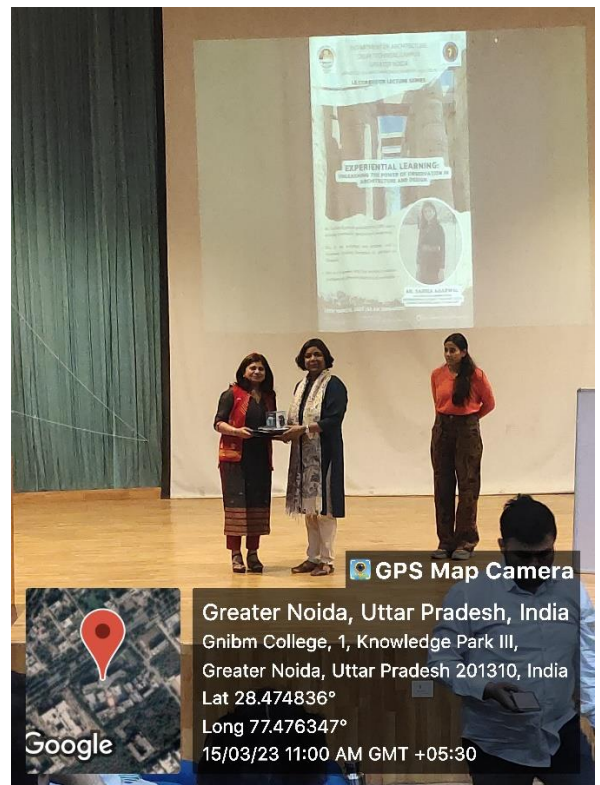

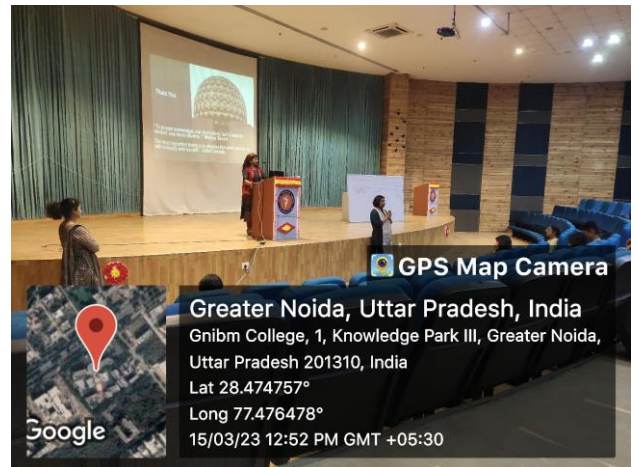

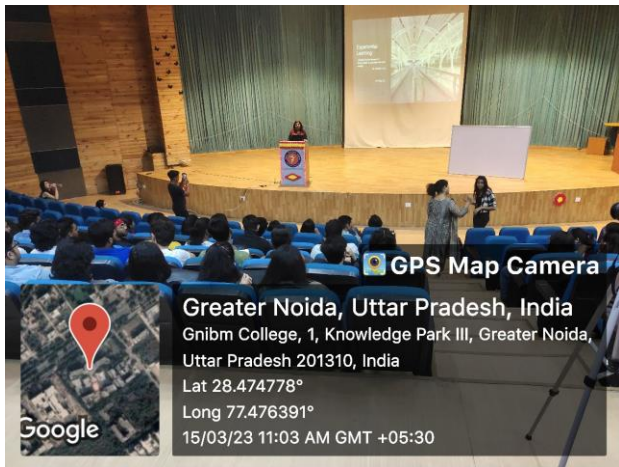

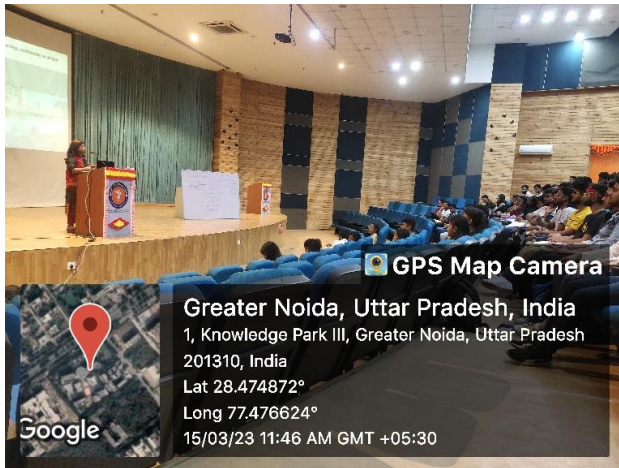

The event commenced with the host giving an introduction of the speaker, Ar. Sarika Agarwal. This was followed by an enlightening lecture that sparked several interesting discussions between the speaker and the students. It finally concluded with a vote of thanks for the speaker, event coordinators and the audience.

The lecture helped the students to understand how to understand the built environment through experience. It enhanced their thinking capacity in terms of observation and its application in design. They developed an in-depth knowledge of the different type of observation skills.
